 Study Guide and Questions
 For
 Romans Session 1: Romans 1:1-7

So I thought that I would add a little study guide with some notes, references, and questions for those of you who would like to do a little extra studying. This might also help you follow along while listening to the podcast. These are totally optional, but you might feel like you learn more if you are actually writing things down. Feel free also to take any notes that you feel are important along the way.

I wanted to include this chart also because we went over this during the podcast, but I kind of hurried through them. You can feel free to track down these references if you want to because I think that they really give you an idea of the Trinity, and how they work as a unit.
